Marines Show.

Capt. J. H. Platt arrived in Memphis Saturday to make arrangements for the free performances to be given here by "The Roving Marines." a company of enlisted men of the U. S. marine corps touring the country in the interests of recruiting.

The production folows the lines of the famous shows given by American fighting men in France, after the armistice, and many members of the marine company took part in such performances over there. There are 50 men in the company. They have a military band, a jazz hand, a double quartet, several soloists and comedians, half a dozen boxers and other specialists.

Two reels of motion pictures will be shown also, depicting the life of a marine in Cuba and Hayti, where the sea soldiers are guarding American interests, and having just enough excitement to make life worth while.

Performances will be given May 15. Southern Athletic club, at 8 p.m. May 16, Driving park at 2 p.m., and Lyric theater at 8 p.m. May 17. Alaskan roof, at 8 p.m.; May 18. Central high school at 8 p.m.; May 19. Samelson's hall, at 8 p.m.; May 20, Knights of Columbus hall, at 8 p.m.
